Easter — Solemnity of Pentecost

June 7 & 8, 2014

Theme: Receive the Holy Spirit. The feast of Pentecost stirs anew our hearts as Christians. Empowered by the Holy Spirit, Jesus' disciples speak to the people. Each listener is astounded to hear the message in their own language. In the Gospel, Jesus stands in the midst of his disciples and says, "Peace be with you." One of the gifts of this feast of Pentecost is the reminder to respect the various ways in which people hear and respond to God's voice.

STEWARDSHIP A DISCIPLE'S RESPONSE

A Pastoral Letter on Stewardship—10th Anniversary Edition

(Part 9—this reflection will be updated every second week)

II. JESUS' WAY

THE EXAMPLE OF JESUS

Our parents are an inspiration to us as we look back on their lives of giving themselves for each other and for others. Had it not been for their lives of stewardship and giving, we would not perhaps have the faith we have today; and we want to pass that faith and love on to our children, grandchildren, and others. And then our thoughts are turned to the ultimate sacrifice that Christ made for us. He did so, not because he had to, but because of his great love for us. And to think, all he asks in return is for us to love him and others! But it would mean little to tell someone we love them if we did not try to show that love in a concrete way.

— Paul and Bettie Eck Wichita, Kansas

Jesus is the supreme teacher of Christian stewardship, as he is of every other aspect of Christian life; and in Jesus' teaching and life self-emptying is fundamental. Now, it might seem that self-emptying has little to do with stewardship, but in Jesus' case that is not so. His self-emptying is not sterile self-denial for its own sake; rather, in setting aside self, he is filled with the Father's will, and he is fulfilled in just this way: "My food is to do the will of the one who sent me and to finish his work" (Jn 4:34).

Jesus' mission is to restore to good order the created household of God which sin has disrupted. He not only perfectly accomplishes this task, but also, in calling disciples, empowers them to collaborate with him in the work of redemption for themselves and on behalf of others.

In describing the resulting way of life, Jesus does not waste time proposing lofty but unrealistic ideals; he tells his followers how they are expected to live. The Beatitudes and the rest of the Sermon on the Mount prescribe the lifestyle of a Christian disciple (cf. Mt 5:3–7:27). Although it does not suit worldly tastes, "the wisdom of this world is foolishness in the eyes of God" (1 Cor 3:19). One does well to live in this way. "Everyone who listens to these words of mine and acts on them will be like a wise man who built his house on a rock. . . . Everyone who listens to these words of mine but does not act on them will be like a fool who built his house on sand" (Mt 7:24, 26).

"As each one of us has received a gift, used to serve one another as good stewards of God's varied grace (1Peter 4:10)."

Protocol Update — Blessed Sacrament Parish is scheduled for a June 19, 2014 "pre-audit" to be done by the Archbishop's protocol office. This pre-audit is a review of our progress to-date in implementing the Archdiocese's Protocols for Responsible Parish Ministry. Several rural parishes and some city parishes have already completed their pre-audit in preparation for the formal Canada-wide Insurance Company audit to determine if a parish is eligible to receive ongoing insurance coverage. As previously reported, Blessed Sacrament employees, collection counters and finance council members have all completed their protocol documents and the pre-screening process for high security positions. The next phase of protocol implementation will be for all parish volunteers serving in high security and general security positions.
