at The Last Supper*

Our Parish Mission: We, the faith community of Blessed Sacrament Parish, seek to help those whom God has placed in our lives to experience the presence of our Lord Jesus Christ. As Jesus' disciples, with the grace of the Holy Spirit, we strive to become living gospels of life through our daily loving choices to serve God, one another, our parish and our community.

Thirtieth Sunday in Ordinary Time

October 25 & 26, 2014

You shall love your neighbour as yourself. Jesus, when approached by the lawyer in today's Gospel, gives the best possible response to a question about the commandments: He teaches anew the covenant imperative to love God and love our neighbour. Jesus' message is for us all. Our Lord expects faith, hope and charity to shine through our deeds and interactions with others. The building up of God's reign of love is what we are urged to adopt today and every day.

Annual Appeal 2014 Giving to the Archdiocesan Annual Appeal is more than an act of charity. It is a priestly act of material and spiritual sacrifice that can heal and strengthen our relationship with Christ and our neighbor. Your gift has the potential to transform the lives of others in need of companionship and prayer through our hospital chaplaincy programs, a strengthening of faith through adult and youth faith formation, and the myriad of social concerns that prevent our friends and neighbors from experiencing the abundant life and love of Christ. Your commitment to the future is a commitment to the furthering of the Mission of Christ in your own life as well as the lives of others.

STEWARDSHIP A DISCIPLE'S RESPONSE

A Pastoral Letter on Stewardship—10th Anniversary Edition

(Part 15—this reflection will be updated every second week)

III. Living as a Steward

REDEMPTION AND STEWARDSHIP

Everyone has some natural responsibility for a portion of the world and an obligation in caring for it to acknowledge God’s dominion. But there are also those who might be called stewards by grace. Baptism makes Christians stewards of this kind, able to act explicitly on God’s behalf in cultivating and serving the portion of the world entrusted to their care. We find the perfect model of such stewardship in the Lord. “For in him all the fullness was pleased to dwell, and through him to reconcile all things for him, making peace by the blood of his cross” (Col 1:19-20); and finally it will be he who “hands over the kingdom to his God and Father” (1 Cor 15:24).

Although Jesus is the unique priest and mediator, his disciples share in his priestly work. Baptism makes them “a royal priesthood” (1 Pt 2:9) called to offer up the world and all that is in it—especially themselves—to the Lord of all. In exercising this office, they most fully realize the meaning of our Christian stewardship. Part of what is involved here for Catholics is a stewardship of time, which should include setting aside periods for family prayer, for the reading of Scripture, for visits to the Blessed Sacrament, and for attendance at Mass during the week whenever this is possible.

Participation in Christ’s redemptive activity extends even, though certainly not only, to the use people make of experiences that otherwise might seem the least promising: deprivation, loss, pain. “Now I rejoice in my sufferings for your sake,” St. Paul says, “and in my flesh I am filling up what is lacking in the afflictions of Christ on behalf of his body, which is the church” (Col 1:24). Here also one looks to Jesus to lead the way. For one’s estimate of suffering, as Pope John Paul II points out, is transformed by discovering its “salvific meaning” when united with the suffering of Christ (Salvifici Doloris, no. 27).

“As each one of us has received a gift, used to serve one another as good stewards of God’s varied grace (1Peter 4:10).”

Come Celebrate the Gift of Life

In January of 2013, Archbishop Daniel Bohan established October as a month especially dedicated to the celebration of the value and dignity of human life in the Archdiocese of Regina. This fourth week is dedicated to the elderly and the sick. Read the pamphlet entitled "Come Celebrate the Gift of Life", which was distributed earlier this month. Inform yourself as to the teachings of the Church on the subjects of euthanasia and assisted suicide. Talk about these issues with others. Help someone who is elderly and let them know that they are a valued member of your community. Pray for those who are elderly, sick or suffering.

Archdiocese of Regina on Saturday November 8th, the Youth Ministry offices of the Archdiocese of Regina and the Diocese of Saskatoon are coming together to offer: "Collaboration in Ministry"....how we can work together to build the young church.
