Christ the King

November 22 & 23, 2014

I will seek out my sheep. In the Gospel today, Jesus encourages us to treat other people with justice and compassion. We need to be accepting of others. We need to include others. We need to be kind and to love others. Jesus often gives us the opportunity to feed those who are hungry, to give drink to those who are thirsty and to care for those who are sick. We are called to address the needs of the world and the marginalized in society. As we try to live and grow spiritually, we will discover God in every person.

STEWARDSHIP A DISCIPLE'S RESPONSE

A Pastoral Letter on Stewardship—10th Anniversary Edition

(Part 17—this reflection will be updated every second week)

III. Living as a Steward

FOR REFLECTION & DISCUSSION

1. If you were to undertake stewardship as a way of Christian life, what major problems and pain would you anticipate?
2. In your lifetime, how have you experienced co-creation with God?
3. How do you relate Christian stewardship to ecology, to your personal care for the environment?
4. How do you react to the idea of “being our brother’s keeper,” of being involved in efforts to curtail consumerism so that God’s good things will benefit not only some but all people?
5. Do you see the theological connection between stewardship and “priestly mediation”?
6. What does the word of God say to you regarding the life of stewardship?

You are the salt of the earth. But if salt loses its taste, with what can it be seasoned? It is no longer good for anything but to be thrown out and trampled underfoot. You are the light of the world. A city set on a mountain cannot be hidden. Nor do they light a lamp and then put it under a bushel basket; it is set on a lampstand, where it gives light to all in the house. Just so, your light must shine before others, that they may see your good deeds and glorify your heavenly Father. (Mt 5:13-16)

There are different kinds of spiritual gifts but the same Spirit; there are different forms of service but the same Lord; there are different workings but the same God who produces all of them in everyone. (1 Cor 12:4-6)

It was not you who chose me, but I who chose you and appointed you to go and bear fruit that will remain, so that whatever you ask the Father in my name he may give you. This I command you: love one another. (Jn 15:16-17)

“As each one of us has received a gift, used to serve one another as good stewards of God’s varied grace (1Peter 4:10).”
