First Sunday of Advent

December 5 & 6, 2015

In the readings of today, we are called to prepare for the way of the Lord. 'Prepare the way of the Lord, make His paths straight.' John the Baptist invited people to prepare for the coming of God by acknowledging their sins and asking forgiveness. Let us open our hearts in welcome for that gift of the Spirit.

Blessed Sacrament Church Renovation Update 3.1

Church Washroom & Children’s Room Project: Breda Brother Builders have completed their construction of the new washroom and children’s room in the South-West corner of the church adjacent to the main entrance. The blinds and curtains will be installed when the church floor replacement project resumes and the new floor tiles are installed in 2016. The new washroom and children’s room project has revealed several long-standing structural issues with the bell tower and the adjacent south-west church roof. These structural issues can no longer be ignored for the simple fact that structural failures are unsafe!

In the first case, contractors needed to install new vents through the choir loft, attic and the church roof directly above the new washroom. We discovered that the south-west wall had separated away from the choir loft floor by as much as 4 inches. Further investigation revealed that three roof trusses on the south side of the bell tower are broken; the supporting roof beam directly above the washroom is giving way; the roof against the bell tower has dropped about 6 inches, all this causing the south-west washroom wall to push away from the choir loft floor. In late October, the Breda Brothers removed the stained glass window so it would not be lost in the event of a collapsed bell tower. They also installed exterior wall braces to prevent the south-west wall from capitulating.

In the second case, the Breda Brothers discovered three more signs of major structural failure in the bell tower. All of these pointed toward an imminent collapse of the tower in a south easterly direction. Jordan Asbestos removal were immediately called back on site to remove 110 years of “bird stuff” that had accumulated in the bell tower and choir loft ceiling. It took Jordan a full week in hazmat gear to clean up the tower, so that contractors could work safely to remove the bells. The Breda Brothers and subcontractors, safely removed three tower bells on October 30, 2015. The bells are currently stored inside the rectory garage.

The south-west church roof, the south washroom window and wall, as well as the bell tower have been stabilized. Gerry Spooner and Fr. Barry have met with staff from Knox Metropolitan church to see how they have engineered a structural solution for their bell tower. A BBK Structural Engineer was on site December 1, 2015 to assess the structural issues with the bell tower and church roof. BBK will finalize their engineering specs for 32 new piles and columns to underpin the church floor and four new piles to underpin the bell tower. In the new year, BBK will design a new “structural skeleton” with four steel beams from the basement piles to the bell tower chamber. The structural damage to the roof must be repaired and the worn-out roof shingles replaced with a new covering.

From a timing perspective, the first priority is to underpin the church floor so that the floor replacement project can be completed as soon as possible. Once these two projects are completed we can move back into the building and resume weekend Masses. The second priority is repair structural damage and replace worn out asphalt shingles on the church roof. Remember folks, our church is the oldest catholic church in Regina and the second oldest building in the city.

CALL for PRAYERS & BENEFACTORS: Please pray that the God of Providence will provide Blessed Sacrament Parish with benefactors, who will provide the financial funds needed for the structural repairs to the church floor, bell tower and roof.
