Sixth Sunday of Easter

April 30 & May 1, 2016

My peace I leave with you. Today's readings are full of reassurance and the promise of blessing. The readings point to Christianity's strong roots in Judaism. In the first reading we see that early Christianity valued the wisdom of the whole community to discern how to honour the past while being open to a new future. In the second reading, the gates of the heavenly city, the New Jerusalem, are named for the twelve ancient tribes of Israel. In the Gospel, Jesus, whose teaching of justice and compassion are suffused with His knowledge of the Hebrew Scriptures, reassures His followers that the Holy Spirit will remind them of all He has said.

Church Repair Status

Please visit www.blessedsacramentregina.ca for more details.

Church Floor & Bell Tower Underpinning Project: This week contractors poured cement for the last two (2) piles in the basement kitchen/conference room area. The scaffolding in the 1905 basement section has been removed so the ground floor can be leveled out, sealed with a new Radon gas sheet and covered with new road base material.

The bell tower foundation area has been excavated and is being prepared for a new "structural slab" which will stabilize the tower and also become the foundation for a new "structural skeleton" which will extend up to the belfry. Gerry Spooner and Fr. Barry visited the Knox Met bell tower last October to see how they have stabilized their bell tower which houses 22 bells. The BBK Structural Engineers are reviewing photos of the Knox Met belfry to design a smaller version of a "structural skeleton" which will support Blessed Sacrament's three original 1905 bells. The project to install the new "structural skeleton" is scheduled to begin in the fall together with work to repair the structural damage to the church roof and bell tower.

The Face of Mercy

The Papal Bull announcing the Extraordinary Jubilee of Mercy

From Francis, Bishop of Rome: To all who read this letter I send the blessing of grace, mercy, & peace.

22. Let me now speak a little about indulgences because a Jubilee year always involves granting them. Simply put, God indulges us. This Holy Year of Mercy is time during which, by taking certain steps under the inspiration of the Holy Spirit, we will come to know firsthand this indulgent God. Not only are our sins forgiven but we are transformed as children of God. We are transformed; and this is what the indulgence of the Holy Year offers us.

So when we visit a shrine, celebrate Reconciliation, tend to the poor, or make peace with someone, we receive an indulgence from God. Likewise, we live within the communion of saints and their holiness leads us to holiness.

Therefore, we approach the Father’s mercy with absolute assurance that his mercy extends to our entire lives. To “gain an indulgence” is to experience this holiness in the Church.

23. As we ponder the meaning of mercy this year, we do so as neighbors to Jews and Muslims. Both of these great traditions consider mercy to be one of God’s most important attributes. Both are steeped in understanding God as mercy and kindness. I hope that during this Jubilee we can encounter these and other great religious traditions and dialogue with them.

24. We turn now to Mary, the Mother of Mercy. May she watch over us in this Jubilee year. She witnessed the mercy of her son, Jesus, throughout his life and even at the foot of his cross. In her great hymn, Mary sang in this or similar words: “God’s mercy flows in wave after wave on those who are in awe before him...” During this year, let us pray to Mary in the great Salve Regina, known in English as the Hail, Holy Queen.

We pray with those in the communion of saints who made divine mercy their mission. In particular, we honor St Faustina Kowalska. May she stand with us before God throughout this year.

Working against Suicide

The Government of Canada has introduced Bill C-14, An Act to amend the Criminal Code and to make related amendments to other Acts (medical assistance in dying). This proposed legislation, which responds to the decision of the Supreme Court of Canada in early 2015, will make euthanasia and assisted suicide legal and more accessible in our entire country. The Supreme Court decision and current legislative efforts are in stark contradiction to the endeavours of individuals, families and communities to counteract the dangers and sufferings of suicide. To express your concerns about the legislation, visit <http://www.canadiansforconscience.ca/>.
