30th Sunday in Ordinary Time

October 28 & October 29, 2017

You shall love your neighbor as yourself. Jesus, when approached by the lawyer in today's Gospel, gives the best possible response to a question about the commandments: He teaches a new the covenant imperative to love God and love our neighbour. Jesus' message is for us all. Our Lord expects faith, hope and charity to shine through our deeds and interactions with others. The building up of God's reign of love is what we are urged to adopt today and every day.

Stewardship Bulletin Bit

“You shall love the Lord, your God, with all your heart, with all your soul and with all your mind.” - Matthew 22:37

Do you put other “gods” before God? Is your love of money, power, status or some personal possession greater than your love for God? Do you really recognize that everything you have and everything you are is a gift from God? The good news – it’s not too late to put God first in your life in all things.

Archbishop's Appeal 2017

The theme of this Sunday's readings is love. Jesus reminds us that the most important duty of a Christian is to love the Lord with your whole self and to also love your neighbor as yourself. But love of neighbor is not always an easy task, especially when we recognize that others don't always treat us with that sense of selfless love and, in fact, can be downright cruel to us at times. Nonetheless, Christ's law of love stands firm. We are to love. Always! Jesus offers us the perfect example of selfless love on the cross in reparation for our sins. He gave his life so that we could enjoy everlasting life. The stewardship way of life calls us to follow Jesus' example and act on this selfless love. By doing so, we set an example and call others to follow Christ. The Lord has given us the gift of love through His own suffering and death. What's more, He has given us our time, our talent, and our treasure, and it is our duty as stewards of these gifts to use them at every opportunity the Lord provides us at our disposal like the Archbishop's Appeal to reach out in love for Him and our neighbor in need of His love.

Thinking Faith! TF58: Thinking about Baptism

Part 1 Continuing their series on sacramental preparations, Eric and Bret take time this week to discuss some of the basic theology underlying the sacrament of baptism. Specifically, they'll discuss the theme of death and resurrection - what we call the 'Pascal Mystery'. We'll discuss how Christ's dying and rising serves to 'unlock' themes of death and resurrection in the Old Testament and can help us to understand just what we are entering into when we are baptized and when we prepare to baptize our children. A great episode for Catechists and to share with parents. archregina.sk.ca
